

the people in their communities urged the President to visit them.

The country did not desire to have the President away from Washington while Congress was in session, according to Mr. Fitzgerald.

The President may think it is proper to furnish his name as one who was on the train," said Representative Bartlett.

Violates Rules of Decency.

"If the President is satisfied with the decency of furnishing the names of myself and my colleagues to the gentleman from Minnesota in his sneering attack upon what he calls the hospitality of the South, that is a matter for him. But the President has violated both the rules of hospitality and of decent conduct."

"If a gentleman is the guest of the President, must that fact be reflected in his vote here upon an appropriation?" inquired Mr. Hardwick, of Georgia.

Speaker Cannon took the floor and defended the President in his desire to meet the people of the country. He said he would be glad to make the President's salary $100,000 annually, and he wanted not only the President to be able to travel, but he said he would favor a requirement that every member of the House should see the country for which he was to legislate before taking his seat in Congress.

"I would risk my soul's salvation," said Mr. Cannon, "that neither in Missouri nor any other State will there be found a man, woman or child who would advise such a course as is being pursued on this floor."

Mr. Garrett, of Tennessee, suggested that the objection to the appropriation was that the money had been used by the President to pay his expenses "in making partisan and political speeches."

TWO SOLICITORS ARE UNDER ARREST

Employer in New York May Come to Their Rescue.

J. W. Collins and Robert Williams, young men who claim to be advertisement solicitors for J. W. Morrison, of New York City, who gets out a monthly publication for the American Federation of Labor and the Federation of Railway Baggagemen and Freight Handlers of America, were arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging them with soliciting subscriptions for their books without a license. After a short interrogation, the two men were taken to the First Station, where they were locked up for the night. Collins is married, and has his wife with him. She appeared to be in great distress over the unfortunate ending of the day's work.

Their connection with J. W. Morrison seems on the face to be bona fide, as they had blank orders with J. W. Morrison's subscription on them, and all their checks are made payable to the same man.

But it is further charged, though there is no warrant, that the men went to W. H. Adams, bookbinder, and to L. H. Jenkins, also a bookbinder, and asked them to quote prices for binding the books they purport to sell. A price of $2 a volume was quoted to them, and they received the quotation in writing, which, it is alleged, they used to solicit subscriptions. It is said that there are thirteen cases of this kind against them, and W. H. Adams and L. H. Jenkins will be among those summoned to Police Court this morning as witnesses.

The men deny that they went either to Mr. Adams or to Mr. Jenkins, and last night they received a telegram addressed to Major Werner from Mr. Morrison, saying that the arrest was illegal. If there should be any difficulty in settling the case this morning, Collins and Williams expect the head of the firm to come to their rescue. The main question seems to be whether the allegation that they obtained money under false pretenses through use of the signatures of Mr. Adams and Mr. Jenkins can be maintained.

JACOBSKY NOW IN HENRICO JAIL

Alleged Baggage Thief Brought Back to Stand Trial.

L. L. Scherer, general transportation agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, returned last night from New York with his prisoner, Martin Jacobsky, alias Jackson, alias Bosky, who is wanted in Orange county for participating in a baggage robbery which occurred at Gordonsville about three years ago.

Jacobsky was arrested in New York last Saturday, and has been awaiting requisition papers. One of the indictments against him is for the alleged theft of a trunk from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, valued at $3,000. Jacobsky is believed to be a member of Charlie Miller's gang, whose operations against railroads aggregated more than $200,000.

Mr. Scherer was accompanied to New York by twelve witnesses, several of whom identified Jacobsky as the man they saw having a trunk around the Gordonsville depot. Jacobsky denies that he has been in Virginia for five years.

G. W. Thomas, of Marlborough, N. Y., who is also being held as one of the Miller gang, was not brought back last night as his case does not come up until this morning. He has been in custody since his arrest.

Great Benefit

Always Derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla in the Spring.

Miss Sara J. Robinson, Box 339, Albion, N. Y., writes: "My father, who is a stone-cutter by trade, used to feel worse in the spring of the year than when he was in the fall. For several years in succession he has taken several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring, and has always derived great benefit from it."

Remember there is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla—no "just as good" preparation. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla to-day, in usual liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs.

living in Marlborough for a year, but he is now in the Kingston jail.

These two men are believed to be the last of the gang. All the others have been caught and convicted, and with the conviction of these two men the once famous gang which was the terror of railroads all over the country will have passed into history, and baggage agents will breathe a sigh of relief. Harry Allen, one of the convicted men, is to have been liberated from the penitentiary several days ago, on conditional pardon, but it was thought better to detain him until after Jacobsky's trial.

PYTHIAN GRAND LODGE ADJOURNS

Convention One of Best Held by Order in Several Years.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

Next Meeting Will Be Held in Harrisonburg in May, 1911.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., May 26.—The forty-second annual convention of the Pythian Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias came to an end this afternoon shortly after 12 o'clock, and the delegates are leaving for their homes. By tomorrow morning all of them will have left the city.

The convention, while the discussions were warm at times, was one of the best and most enjoyable the order has held for several years. The members of the lodge were representative men from their respective sections of the State, men who were a credit to the order and the principles which it stands for.

The closing scenes of the convention. It is said were of a character that the members will not be permitted to forget for a long time. Some of the members, desiring to show Colonel George C. Cabell, of Norfolk, a special honor, this morning presented him with a beautiful floral tribute. Colonel Cabell accepted the flowers in a neat speech, and then, to show that he had forgotten the debate of the previous day, in turn presented it to the past grand chancellor, Rev. J. H. Dickinson. Mr. Dickinson, greatly moved by this generous act, accepted the offering, and then the convention stood and sang, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Meet Next at Harrisonburg.

The next convention will be at Harrisonburg and the meeting of the Pythian Sisters, a rapidly growing adjunct to the order for the wives and daughters of members of the order. This will greatly increase attendance upon the annual conventions. For the arrangement will be similar to the one now in vogue with the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows, for the Rebekah Assembly and the Grand Encampment always simultaneously with the Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge was convened at 9 o'clock this morning, the attendance and interest being good.

The committee named at the opening session to send a floral design tribute Daniel H. Hines, a member of the lodge, had been made, the design being delivered this morning.

The committee on military department and finances reported conditions to be excellent.

A fraternal telegram was read from the Grand Temple of the Pythian Sisters, and a resolution was then offered providing for a special time during the future meetings of the Grand Lodge for the sisters.

Purse for Pythian Sisters.

During the morning a purse of more than $50 was raised for the Pythian Sisters, and this will be turned over to the officers of the Grand Temple, to be used for the development of the temples of the State.

The usual resolution of thanks was adopted, and the memorial committee reported that sixteen members of the Grand Lodge had died during the past year. The usual mark of respect to these deceased members was provided for.

The installation of officers took place at 10 o'clock, the new grand chancellor, Harry M. Lewis, of Staunton, who was not present before, being put in charge of the installation.

The Grand Lodge decided that in future the committee in charge of the Hines memorial fund should submit to the Grand Lodge annually a report, giving in detail all of its work for the previous year, this report to include every act of the committee, with a full detailed financial report. Heretofore this committee did not make such reports.

Plans for Memorial.

The committee directed to secure plans and specifications for the erection of a suitable memorial on the site now owned or may be hereafter owned by the Grand Lodge, these plans and specifications to be presented to the Grand Lodge at its next convention for approval. The body also decided to make the Hines memorial a special and continuing order for the second day of the future sessions.

Provision was made for the collection of funds for the memorial. In memory of the Confederates who sleep in Hollywood, a memorial service will be held in Grace Street Presbyterian Church, Fourth and Grace Streets, on Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Rev. D. Clay Lilly, D. D., will officiate.

Seats will be reserved for all Confederate organizations, members being requested to meet in the lecture room of the church at 8 P. M. The veterans from Lee Camp are especially invited to attend.

Memorial Service.

Annual Sermon to Be Delivered Before Hollywood Association Sunday.

In memory of the Confederates who sleep in Hollywood, a memorial service will be held in Grace Street Presbyterian Church, Fourth and Grace Streets, on Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Rev. D. Clay Lilly, D. D., will officiate.

Blasphemy Gets Appointment.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Newbern, N. C., May 26.—The announcement that J. S. Basnight had been appointed postmaster at Newbern has created quite a lot of comment. It was thought at one time that Mr. Basnight would not get the appointment, as there seemed to be some objection in the party for many candidates were mentioned in the meantime. Mr. Basnight, however, has been confident from the first that he would land the job, and he was busy yesterday receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Anti-Prohibitionists to Organize.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Henderson, N. C., May 26.—An informal meeting of "local optionists" will be held on Saturday with the view of organizing anti-prohibition leagues in all the townships of Vance county. At the county convention, if the nominee refuses to pledge himself to work and vote for the repeal of the prohibition law, the "local optionists" will nominate an independent candidate for the Legislature, who will pledge himself to do all in his power to have the law expunged from the statute books of North Carolina.

Magistrate Puryear, of Henrico, yesterday. See was badly beaten about the face and head.

Miss Harriet Richardson.

Miss Harriet H. Richardson died yesterday, at the ripe age of eighty-nine years. She was a member of one of the best known families of the city, for many years prominent in its business and social circles. Her two brothers—R. P. Richardson and Major B. W. Rebuild the University College of Medicine

Attention, Please—

Said the professor to the merchant:

"Nine years ago a large, impressive-looking box arrived at the University College of Medicine. Do you know that you had a personal interest in that transaction?"

Said the merchant: "No, how could that be?"

Said the professor: "That was an X-ray machine."

Said the merchant: "No, how could that be?"

Said the professor: "That was an X-ray machine."

Said the merchant: "Well, what of that?"

Said the professor: "Up to that time there was no machine in Richmond with which a diagnosis of kidney stones could be made. My colleague, Professor —, was put in charge of this machine, which was added to the resources of the city by the University College of Medicine. This college also provided him, in its clinic at great expense, the opportunity to gain experience in its use. He worked at it in season and out of season, and became an authority in X-ray treatment and diagnosis."

Said the merchant: "That's true. What's more, this year I have been well and as a direct result of that my large business has increased in bulk 50 per cent. I thought I owed my gratitude to the surgeon and the X-ray specialist. I see I owe it also to the University College of Medicine, that developed both the surgeon and the X-ray specialist."

Said the treasurer: "The grateful merchant made a handsome subscription to the building fund. He had not seen his connection with the college before."

"I wonder how many there are in Richmond like him?"
